DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 22, 2005 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 – 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Roe et al. (US 5,635,191).

With respect to claims 1 and 3 – 5, the applicant is referred to MPEP 2113, which states that:

"[E]ven though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process." In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985) (citations omitted)

Art Unit: 3761

The examiner reminds the applicant that:

"[T]he lack of physical description in a product-by-process claim makes determination of the patentability of the claim more difficult, since in spite of the fact that the claim may recite only process limitations, it is the patentability of the product claimed and not of the recited process steps which must be established. We are therefore of the opinion that when the prior art discloses a product which reasonably appears to be either identical with or only slightly different than a product claimed in a product-by-process claim, a rejection based alternatively on either section 102 or section 103 of the statute is eminently fair and acceptable. As practical matter, the Patent Office is not equipped to manufacture products by the myriad of processes put before it and then obtain prior art products and make physical comparisons therewith." In re Brown, 459 F.2d 531, 535, 173 USPQ 685, 688 (CCPA 1972).

Accordingly, Roe et al. (hereinafter "Roe") discloses an absorbent article comprising an outer cover, a liquid permeable bodyside liner that defines a bodyfacing surface and that is connected in a superposed relation to the outer cover, an absorbent body that is located between the bodyside liner and the outer cover (col. 4, lines 18 – 30) and a composition on at least a portion of the bodyfacing surface of the bodyside liner wherein the composition has a Tangent Delta value of from about 0.10 to about 0.65 measured over a temperature range of 35 to 40 degrees Celsius according to a Tangent Delta Measurement Procedure set forth in col. 12, lines 66 – 67, col. 22, lines 1 – 25 and col. 12, lines 29 – 61.

The examiner contends that the Roe reference discloses the specifics of the composition as fully explained in the following rejection of claim 7, thereby providing a composition that will yield similar results when subjected to the Tangent Delta Measurement Procedure.

Regarding claim 2, Roe discloses a composition with the claimed softening temperature as set forth in col. 9, lines 55 – 60.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 7 – 23 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the applicant's remarks filed April 22, 2005 with respect to the structural difference between a silicone elastomer and a siloxane (as used in the previous rejections of the claims by the examiner) has been found persuasive. Therefore, the prior art of record fails to anticipate or render obvious an absorbent article comprising a composition on at least a portion of a bodyfacing surface of a bodyside liner that includes from 40 – 95% by weight of emollient, from 0.1 – 40% by weight of viscosity enhancer and from about 0.1 – 20% by weight of silicone elastomer.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed April 22, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., the composition of the present invention) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

With respect to the applicant's assertion that Roe does not teach the claimed invention, the examiner notes that the claimed composition recited in claim 7 is not required in claim 1. Therefore, the previous rejection applied to claims 1 – 6 is still applicable.
